

Who Feeds Côte d'Ivoire?

A three-day experience proposition for Chef Abbys' West Africa Food Tour. It goes upstream to where food comes from, inward to who it feeds, and outward to who celebrates it.

ABIDJAN · DABOU · JACQUEVILLE

19 – 21 OCTOBER 2026

PREPARED FOR CHEF ABBYS' MANAGEMENT · 23 SEPTEMBER 2026

She has tasted Abidjan. Now she meets the people who feed it.

Her last visit was street food and learning attiéké. This stop meets the cocoa growers and chocolatiers, the 16,000 women behind Attiéké des Lagunes, the children at a school lunch, and the chefs and stars who carry Ivorian food to the world. It will be the most educational stop on the tour, and three days after the Big Street Feast it continues her Zero Hunger cause.

02 · WHY CÔTE D'IVOIRE, WHY NOW

HOOK

World #1 in cocoa (~40% of supply), yet few Ivorians eat Ivorian chocolate

WHY IT WORKS ON CAMERA

A paradox made for short-form video, filmed in harvest season (main crop opens in October)

Cocoa traceability mandatory since 1 Sept 2026, ahead of the EU deforestation law (Jan 2027)

A timely, educational "why this matters"

Attiéké des Lagunes won protected-origin status (Dabou, March 2026): 16,000 women, 167 villages, ~100 bn FCFA

Women's economic power and heritage; completes her earlier attiéké content rather than repeating it

Festival de la Cuisine Ivoirienne (Ministry of Tourism) ends in Kong on 17 Oct

The ministry has a fresh campaign to amplify, and its newly crowned laureates cook with her

The Ghana–Côte d'Ivoire rivalry: football, attiéké vs gari

Built-in engagement from both audiences

03 · WHAT EACH SIDE GETS

Chef Abbys

- 3 episodes unlike any other stop
- Every tour goal: creators, iconic dishes, high-level meetings
- A Côte d'Ivoire sequel to the Big Street Feast

Ivorian partners

- International reach for the FCI and the tourism strategy
- Women producers and Ivorian chefs in front of a TIME-100 audience
- A legacy school-meal moment

Sponsors

- The most purpose-led stop of the tour
- Integrations built into the story, not added on
- Professional BTS assets

Three days, three episodes

MON 19 OCT

The Bean

Cocoa → chocolate

Arrival	Protocol welcome at FHB Airport: fast-track, a pagne welcome kit, fresh bissap and ginger juice.
Afternoon	Bean-to-bar at Le Chocolatier Ivoirien with Axel-Emmanuel Gbaou, the ex-banker whose chocolate was named "best in the world" (2022) and who has trained 2,000+ women in cocoa villages. She makes a Ghana × Côte d'Ivoire bar with the world's #1 and #2 cocoa.
Evening	Welcome dinner with a leading Ivorian chef (target: Charlie Koffi, Villa Alfira) with ~8 tourism, culture and foundation stakeholders.
Upgrade	Cocoa farm visit (Azaguié / Abbé-Bégnini, ~1 h) in the late morning, for a full farm-to-bar day.

TUE 20 OCT

The Lagoon

Attiéké, women & a school lunch

Morning	The women of Attiéké des Lagunes , Dabou: cassava → pressing → fermenting → steaming, the economics, and the label that fights fakes. She cooks as a student, not a demonstrator.
Midday	"From the lagoon to the lunchbox." Chef Abbys, the attiéké women and school cooks make lunch for ~400 pupils . Target: a Fondation Magic System school (Jacqueville, 2026). Short talk: food as a career .
Afternoon	Market supply stop (Adjamé / Treichville): where does Abidjan's food come from?
Evening	Maquis night : garba, alloco, braised fish and live zouglou with Ivorian food creators.

WED 21 OCT

The Table

Culture, stars & the cook-off

Morning	Musée des Civilisations de Côte d'Ivoire : food rituals and the Akan roots Ghana and Côte d'Ivoire share.
Late AM	Ministry courtesy call (Tourism & Leisure), linked to the Festival de la Cuisine Ivoirienne.
★ Afternoon	Ghana × Côte d'Ivoire: the Cook-Off . Chef Abbys + FCI 2026 laureates + a celebrity guest judge (targets: A'Salfo; Didier Drogba as the stretch ask) + 2–3 Ivorian food creators. Attiéké vs gari. Kedjenou vs light soup .
Upgrade	Sunset pinasse (boat) on the Ébrié lagoon, farewell toast against the Plateau skyline.

Thu 22 Oct: airport protocol, then Air Côte d'Ivoire nonstop to Monrovia (~1 h 30); flight days to be confirmed. Every day keeps a free block for her team's own filming, and every outdoor segment has a covered backup (short rainy season).

06 · FUNDING APPROACH

With four weeks' lead time and many 2026 budgets already committed, we ask for in-kind support first and cash second. The fastest decisions come from hotels and private brands with local marketing teams (mobility, telco, FMCG, banks). The Ministry of Tourism is most likely to support protocol and access, because the programme amplifies its own festival. We will clear every category against Chef Abbys' existing brand deals before pitching.

Timeline

Wed 23 Sep This draft to Chef Abbys' management

Fri 25 Sep Feedback on scope and budget · headcount and passports confirmed

Wed 30 Sep Proposition approved → collaboration agreement signed

1 – 9 Oct Outreach: ministry letters, sponsors, chocolatier, Dabou women's group, school, chef, celebrity, creators

12 Oct Programme locked · ANAC drone authorisation filed · flights booked

13 – 16 Oct AToure recce of every location and rain backup

19 – 21 Oct Delivery

08 · WHAT WE NEED FROM YOUR TEAM

Eight answers to lock the plan

1 Final party size, names and passports: rooms, vehicles and e-visas for any non-ECOWAS crew

2 Accra → Abidjan on 19 Oct: flight or road, and arrival time

3 Liberia: date, local tourism partner, and confirmation that she flies (the road is ~900 km over 2 days)

4 Content commitments: videos, platforms, collab posts, so partners are offered concrete deliverables

5 Existing sponsors and exclusivities we must respect

6 Anything from her last Ivory Coast trip not to repeat, plus any dish or person on her wish-list

7 Budget ceiling: what the tour funds versus what we raise locally

8 Green light to approach the Ghana High Commission in Abidjan for the Ghana × Côte d'Ivoire angle

All partners, people and venues named in this document are targets and have not yet been approached. Nothing is confirmed until the collaboration agreement is signed.
